BRIEF HISTORY OF FLORIDA STATE UNIVERSITY

Florida State University, one of the largest and oldest of the 12 institutions of higher learning in the State University System of Florida, was established by an act of the Florida Legislature on Jan. 24, 1851, as the Seminary West of the Suwannee River, also called the West Florida Seminary.

Classes were held at the West Florida Seminary from 1857 until 1863, when the Legislature changed the name to The Florida Military and Collegiate Institute. Following the Civil War, the institution entered a period of growth and development. By 1897 it had become the first liberal arts college in the state, and in 1901 it became Florida State College. In 1905, the Legislature reorganized Florida's educational system, and the school became an all-women's college and was renamed Florida State College for Women. When World War II ended, returning veterans required additional educational resources. In 1947, the Governor signed an act of the Legislature returning FSCW to a coeducational institution and renaming it Florida State University.

In each succeeding decade, Florida State University has strengthened its academic enterprise and is now recognized as a leading national research university. The Florida Legislature and the Florida Board of Governors designated FSU one of the state's preeminent universities in 2013, and the university has been ranked in the nation's Top 25 public universities since 2019. Today, the university comprises 17 colleges, serving more than 46,000 students and offering 206 bachelor's, master's, and specialist degrees as well as 64 doctoral degrees and four professional degrees.

From its origins on a few acres with a handful of buildings, the university has expanded to include 390 buildings on more than 1,800 acres. Today, Florida State University encompasses the 487.1-acre Tallahassee campus, the Coastal and Marine Laboratory on the Gulf Coast, a campus in Panama City, Fla., and a global footprint that includes a branch campus in the Republic of Panama and study centers in Florence, Italy; London, England; and Valencia, Spain.

Across generations, FSU has expanded opportunity, advanced knowledge, and prepared students to lead and serve. In 2026, Florida State University celebrates its 175th anniversary, honoring its rich heritage and bold vision for the future.

SEMINOLE TRIBE OF FLORIDA

The Seminole Tribe of Florida and Florida State University maintain a close relationship based on friendship, mutual respect, and support for one another. The Seminole Tribe of Florida are a courageous, tenacious, and determined people who, against great odds, fought successfully to preserve their culture and to live their lives according to their traditions and beliefs. Since 1947, FSU has proudly identified itself with this heroic tribe. FSU's use of the name honors the strength and bravery of these people, who never surrendered and ultimately persevered.

ORDER OF THE CONFERRAL OF DEGREES

The order in which the academic degrees are conferred has been established by tradition. Beginning with the newest college in the University, the degrees are conferred in succession, proceeding toward the oldest college. Therefore, at Florida State University, the Dedman College of Hospitality is first and the College of Arts and Sciences is last in the conferral of academic degrees.

ACADEMIC REGALIA

Patterned after medieval university customs, today's academic regalia reflect the status, scholastic achievement, and wearer's academic discipline. The colors on the trimmings of doctoral gowns, the edging on hoods, and the tassels of caps worn by undergraduate candidates reflect the student's academic area of study.

The colors seen at an FSU commencement ceremony are traditional and include white for the arts and humanities, brown for the fine arts, golden yellow for science, light blue for education, pink for music, citron for social work, drab for business, purple for law, apricot for nursing, maroon for human sciences, and green for medicine.

The wearer's degree is reflected by their gown and hood. A gown worn fastened at the top that features long, pointed sleeves is worn by those holding a bachelor's degree. The master's gown, which is worn open, has long, chiseled sleeves with a slit near the upper part of the arm. The doctoral gown, also worn open, is faced with a broad strip of velvet and has crossbars of velvet on each sleeve. The bars may be of black velvet or of colored velvet indicative of the degree's discipline and will agree with the hood's edging.

Hoods are worn by those holding graduate degrees. The doctoral hood is longer and more elaborate than the master's hood. At FSU, the lining of the hood is garnet and gold representing the University's colors. However, a faculty member who holds a degree from another college or university wears a hood whose lining is in the colors of his or her alma mater, with edging that represents his or her academic discipline.

The color of the undergraduate candidate's cap tassel indicates the candidate's degree. Graduate candidates-for-degree usually wear black tassels; however, the doctoral cap may have a tassel of gold thread. At the time the bachelor's degree is conferred, the tassel is changed from the right to the left side of the cap. Thereafter, it remains on the cap's left side.

The continuity of these academic symbols dates from the Middle Ages, and tradition dictates that they should be departed from as sparingly as possible, not only to preserve the symbolism of pattern and color, but for utility, as well.

Students who are wearing cords in today's ceremony are graduating with a degree of distinction. This distinction is based on all college work attempted and is awarded only to undergraduates. Students must have a 3.5 grade point average to graduate Cum Laude (gold cord), a 3.7 grade point average for Magna Cum Laude (garnet cord) and a 3.9 grade point average for Summa Cum Laude (garnet and gold cord).

Actual determination of any degree of distinction happens only after grades from a student's final term are calculated into the GPA. Grades earned during a student's final term may or may not alter degrees of distinction as reflected in this commencement program. The following marks designate the three degrees of distinction as printed in this program:

- * Cum Laude
-  Magna Cum Laude
-  Summa Cum Laude

THE MACE

Origins in the Middle Ages, the mace is an ornamental staff that symbolizes the authority of the university president.

The Florida State University mace, created from native black walnut and gold-plated silver, was designed by Ivan Johnson, FSU Professor of Art. The woodwork is the effort of James C. Smith, 1992-93 Lawton Distinguished Professor of Psychology, and the metalwork the product of FSU alumnus Donald Vodicka.

The university marshal bears the mace before the president as the academic procession enters and retires from academic convocations.

THE MEDALLION

The medallion, which bears the university Seal, was first presented to then FSU President Bernard Sliger by the Alumni Association at the revived Fall Convocation in 1988. Richard McCullough is the seventh president to wear the brass medallion as a symbol of the office at formal academic functions.

THE BANNER

The Banner is the highest ranking of the armorial ensigns, types of flag with heraldic significance, dating from medieval times. A knight who had displayed particularly valorous conduct became known as a Knight Banneret and was permitted to display his coat of arms on a square flag or banner carried on his lance. The Banner marked the carrier's position in battle, in a ceremony, or at a tournament.

Like the Mace, the Banner is one of the medieval heraldic devices adopted by the faculties of universities in Scotland in the 1400s to embellish academic ceremonies. Today we use them to identify the colleges participating in formal academic convocations.

UNIVERSITY-WIDE HONOR SOCIETIES

FSU sponsors chapters of several university-wide scholastic and leadership honor societies that recognize students who have excelled academically or through leadership and service to the University and community. Below is a list of the cord, stole, or medallion provided as recognition of membership:
